

“Jennifer D. Morgan is a modern-day Dale Carnegie.” –
Jon Fee, CMO VettaFi

Jennifer D. Morgan is a visionary leader, award-winning coach, and keynote speaker who empowers organizations to elevate communication and presentation skills for measurable impact. As the CEO and Founder of Connective Communication, LLC, Jennifer partners with top-tier organizations to transform how leaders, teams, and individuals connect, influence, and inspire.

With over 15 years of global experience spanning 16+ countries and a background in finance and technology training, Jennifer has coached more than 45,000 professionals to achieve real-time results. Most notably, during her decade at JPMorgan Asset & Wealth Management, she served as a Sales Coach and Global Head of Technology Training, where she directly contributed to closing multi-billion-dollar deals by equipping revenue-generating teams with advanced communication and deal closing strategies.

Interactive Keynote/Workshop sampling: Presentation Mastery, Sharper Messaging, Virtual Presentation Brilliance, Tech to Business Speak, Product Messaging, Media/Mainstage/Panel Performance...tailored to client needs.

Jennifer is the author of her debut book: Hearts, Minds & Wallets: The Thin Book That Closes Gigantic Deals. It is the success playbook that is punctuated by professional autobiographical (true) stories.

She is delighted to democratize ideas that elevate others to be their best presenting and connective self.

Note: A portion of the profits from every hardback book sale will be donated to the Make-A-Wish Foundation.
